1. Are you and your firm actively interested in representing gay, lesbian, bisexual, or transgender (GLBT) clients?

Yes.

2. Are you or your firm currently representing GLBT clients or have you represented GLBT clients in the past?

Yes.

3. Have you or your firm worked on matters/cases in which the sexual orientation, gender identity or expression of your client or you opponent played a role in the case or was relevant to the legal advice you gave? If so, what types of cases/matters have they been (workplace discrimination, housing discrimination, child custody, adoption, etc)?

Yes. All family law matters: custody, visitation, divorce, partition support, equitable distribution, family formation, and family dissolution.

4. Have you or your firm worked on matter(s)/case(s) in which you advocated for GLBT rights? If so, please describe the case(s)/matter(s).

Not specifically, but in so far as we represent GLBT individuals within the context of family law issues, matters related to GLBT rights have been at the forefront and have been litigated.

5. Have you or your firm ever used sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression against an opposing party on behalf of a client? If so, how?

Not to my knowledge.

6. What areas of your or your firm's practice might be of particular interest to prospective GLBT clients (e.g., workplace/housing discrimination, trusts and estates, tax planning, child custody, adoption or surrogacy, medical decision-making, health care, insurance benefits, personal injury litigation, hate crimes, etc)?

All family law matters: custody, visitation, divorce, partition, support, equitable distribution, family formation, and family dissolution.

7. Do you or your firm have any experience advising transgender people about the specific legal issues affecting such individuals? If so, please give examples.

Yes. In addition to assisting transgender clients with securing the necessary changes/amendments to their various identity documents, including name change orders and orders recognizing a legal change of sex, we also have specific experience advising transgender individuals on all family law matters: custody, visitation, divorce, partition, support, equitable distribution, family formation, and family dissolution.

8. What is your or your firm's policy on pro bono legal assistance?

There is no specific firm policy. Each attorney performs individual pro bono services after consultation with and approval from the law partners.
